THE BIRCH

How fresh, how sweet, the unfolding!
Slowly she lifts her branches,
And breezes carry everywhere a fragrance that is spring.

How green, how supple, the sapling!
Winds bend her down,
But she, swinging back, stretches ever toward the light.

How strong, how firm, the maturing!
Slowly she grows in strength and grace,
Stands firm with head held high, knows her destiny.

How fresh, how sweet, the unfolding!
How strong, how firm, the maturing!

THE GREEN YEARS . . .

Too old to play house
And too young to keep one;
Too much knowledge
To accept opinions
And too little
To form solid ones of our own—
We belong to a special race of human beings.
Shaw said youth is wasted on the young . . .
We do not want to waste these years
So few, so precious:
Youth is but a fleeting moment
As brief, as bitter-sweet
As first love—
And very dear!

No more pulling pony tails or teasing girls until they cry. Becky Barker and Bill Ihne find springtime "paradise enow."

ARE THE GROWING YEARS . . .

Sling shots and water pistols
Are packed away, forgotten;
The room no longer buzzes
As soon as the teacher leaves.
"I'll be home at twelve"
Means just that.
When we take a job
We stick to it
We finish what we start.
We learn the meaning
Of integrity, honesty, and honor
Bright as a new penny.

Dorothy Collin, supervisor for a Student Supervised Study Hall, sees that chairman Bill Enke, an important spoke in the S.S.S.H. system, does not commit a boner by permitting Karen Johnson to go out on a pass.

"The Student Court finds you guilty of smoking on the school campus." Ted Swanson hands down the decision reached by the final vote of members of the court, Bob Dilg, Dolores Di Dominico, Ted Swanson, Judy Comiano, Hal Neimer, Beverly Crist, and Tom Baumann. Miss Lois Lamberg is faculty adviser.

THE LAUGHING YEARS . . .

Youth is laughter, too . . . .
Getting together to sing and talk
And eat weird concoctions;
It is parties and dances,
Rustling skirts and red roses;
It is football games,
And Homecoming floats,
Sweatshirts, and hot chocolate;
It is laughing and talking,
Yelling and teasing . . . . .
Youth smiles at its elders—
And at itself!

. . . Homecoming Day . . . six o'clock . . . Dave Cleven, Ora McCleod, Ron Johnson, Ken Grubb, Barb Stryker, Lenny Larson, and Vicki Day have what seems like a never ending job of stuffing that last napkin into the Cheshire cat—but it's fun!

THE DREAMING YEARS . . .

As the rushing sea
Changes the patterns of the sand,
The tide of life
Changes what we are.
We learn to accept reality
And know ourselves.
Shielded no longer,
We challenge life
For our place in the sun,
Knowing that life gives back
Only what we put in . . . .
And always we dream.

Membership in National Honor Society is a dream come true for Gail Dent as her mother pins on the rose.

Like a carrot dangling before the nose of a horse, that diploma spurred us on. Now, Beverly Wauthier, Barb Oosten, Wayne Kerstetter, Linda Fogarty, and Stan Bennett are ready to realize their four year dream of graduation.

A HOUSE OF WORSHIP FOR ALL PEOPLE

THE QUESTING YEARS .

Yes, youth is a time of hoping
And seeking beauty
In warm spring rain
And pale green leaves;
Of believing
In the goodness of creation;
Of asking
Where did I come from?
Why was I put here?
Where am I going?—
A time to seek
Wisdom and truth
And chart our lives
By these answers.

Jerry Keidel, Joan Norberg, Bruce Fyfe, Beth Williamson, Doug Wold, Dixie Nelson, and Dick Rosenfield find an answer to the mystery of existence in their faith in one God.

YOUTH IS . . .

"A TIME TO SEEK
WISDOM AND TRUTH
AND CHART OUR LIVES
BY THESE ANSWERS."

Barry Gigstad and Bruce Fyfe show the male's amused tolerance of Lois Cowen's typically female reaction to a crayfish.

FRESHMEN LAY THE ACADEMIC FOUNDATION . . .

Soon after we had located those hard-to-find classrooms, found out that there were no elevators, and learned not to believe the clocks, we settled into a life that was to be ours until we graduate in far off 1960.

Because our freshman curriculum is the foundation on which we build our high school education, almost all of us took the same courses. In general science we opened the door to investigation of the intriguing world around us. In algebra and general math we marveled at the way in which numbers, "x's," and "y's" got away from us in story problems. When we read The Rime of the Ancient Mariner and other selections in our literature books, we began to improve our reading skills as well as gain an appreciation of good literature. We diagramed sentences and picked out parts of speech to improve our understanding of language. In freshmen social studies, a course that covers a wide range of topics, we studied local and federal government, our own personalities, and the career world which lies ahead of us.

Rochelle Winstead, Roger Mills, and Sue Eyles discuss the agitation caused by Juan Peron in Argentina. Current events is an integral part of freshman social studies.

In freshman science the students get their first taste of the experimental method. Carl Lenca, Grant Peterson, and Jeri Banash prepare their part of a demonstration for class.

"I can't wait to wear it!" Home arts laboratory students Sandra Dolan and Jane Godlove know the delight of having made a blouse of which they can be proud.

As James Schwandt solves an algebra problem on the board, Sandra Brumley explains her solution to the class.

BY CONCENTRATING ON ENGLISH, SOCIAL STUDIES, MATH, AND SCIENCE.

Because they have a two hour class of a combined English and social studies course, Engene Melick, Nancy Prill, and JoAnn Santer have more time to spend on such creative projects as illustrating selections read.

SOPHOMORES CONTINUE ACADEMIC STUDIES AND BROADEN THEIR HORIZONS . . .

Peggy Walker is all "wrapped up" in her project of changing a typewriter ribbon.

After we had mastered many of the fundamentals in our freshman year, as sophomores we began to take subjects more difficult and specialized in content. For those of us who chose to take the world history King Tut, Julius Caesar, Henry VIII, and Kaiser Wilhelm lined up for our inspection. "X" and "y" became ever so much more complicated in geometry as they were applied to angles, tangents, and secants. The shrieks and squeals that issued from the biology lab testified to the fact that we were discovering the internal workings of living animals. Those of us who took non-academic subjects were pleasantly surprised to find that we could sew a fine seam or weld a neat joint. Those who took typing quickly realized how valuable that skill can be for speeding up homework, as well as for college and business use.

In world history class Judy Sonneborn, Mimi Stone, and Dennis Sullivan find the Japanese sword shown by Dr. Betts an interesting sidelight in studying the Russo-Japanese War.

BY EXPERIENCES IN INDUSTRIAL ARTS, HOME ECONOMICS, AND BUSINESS.

In the sophomore advanced geometry class, problems take on the third dimension when the class studies the beginning phases of solid geometry. Back Row: Michael Sacks, Larry Schwartz. Middle Row: Mr. Kiviluoma, Steve Fox, Joseph Freda, Carol Dankowski. Front Row: Stanley Berman, Linda Burkhart, Aaron Bloch. Standing: Arlene Pfaff.

Up and over! In physical education, Jim Papandrea and Lowell Weil work to develop that good muscle tone and co-ordination so essential to a healthy body.

Looking like a man from Mars, Bill Anderson practices the basic skill of arc welding in metal shop.

JUNIORS BEGIN TO APPRECIATE

THE CURRICULUM TRACKS . . .

The "oh's" and "ouches's" of a dentist's office don't phase Georgann Henri as she helps Dr. J. F. Plants in her diversified occupation job.

When we ordered our class rings and planned the prom, we began to realize that our high school days would soon be over. As we worked out our programs, we began to understand that individual courses were part of a well-planned whole, designed to give us an individualized but well-rounded education. We all studied American literature and United States history to become aware of our country's traditions and ideals. If we were planning to attend college, our courses of study included physics; advanced algebra; and the languages, French, German, Latin, or Spanish. If we were planning to work after graduation, some of us went into the diversified occupations or office occupations programs so that we attended school in the morning and got actual on-the-job experience in the afternoon.

With Barbara Norris keeping score, junior English students Paul Carder, Karen Hine, John Hederick, Kay Crouchley, Sarah Smith, and Ron Carlson play Twenty Questions, a pleasant way of reviewing for a test.

Roman citizens Marilyn Kerr, Karen Brandenburg, Jean Weissburg, Gloria Mengarelli, Francine Budnik, and Don Saunders sacrifice food stuffs at the altar of goddesses Karen Kent and Judy Schultz. The food was later donated to a needy family.

In United States history, juniors learn the story of freedom from Washington to Eisenhower. Allen Freedman, Jim Eischen, Jill Linn, and Janet Masters make up the panel discussing the Civil War.

Physics students Russell Reuter, Dick Ablin, and Denny Williamson use a Wimshurst static machine to demonstrate the properties of static electricity.

DESIGNED TO PROVIDE AN INDIVIDUALIZED EDUCATION

After Mr. Ellis has explained the digestive tract, physiology students Marvin Anderson, Sue Bell, and Bonnie Smith will know what makes their stomachs growl when they're hungry.

SENIORS TAKE VARIED AND SPECIALIZED COURSES . . .

After we seniors made certain that we had taken the year of mathematics, the year of general science, the two years of social studies, and the three years of English required for graduation from Niles, we took advantage of the variety of interesting as well as valuable courses offered. Embyro Van Goghs took art. Future Hemingways took composition and creative writing. The Pierre and Eve Curies probed into the mysteries of the earth's composition in chemistry. The Chippendales, skilled with their hands, took specialized courses in wood shop, metals shop, and print shop. The girls with a certain dream in mind took home design, foods, and clothing. As the senior's days became fewer and fewer, his courses became more valuable to him as a means of realizing his ambitions for the future.

Gloria Brooks, Sheila Burnstein, Joan Comiano, and Becky Barker find that magnesium would make a bright torch on a dark night.

In home design Mr. Carrell points out to Eileen Scott that the construction of a home is just as important as the functional layout.

With paper, paint, and a little wire, art students John Eckmann, Jayne Thomas, and Janice Polly create wire sculptures.

WITH GRADUATION, COLLEGE, AND CAREERS IN MIND.

Nancy Phillips and Carol Stine discovered that class study heightened their enjoyment of the Old Vic Company's presentation of Macbeth attended by English literature students.

In secretarial practices Debbie Rothholtz and Glorianna Hoppe actually go through all the duties and courtesies that will be expected of them as secretaries and receptionists.

They may not be in the Marines and they may not win $64,000, but Barbara Buckingham and Barbara LaRocque still enjoy learning to prepare appetizing meals.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The officers of Student Council, Jerry Keidel (Vice-President), Dave Cleven (President), and Barbara Stryker (Secretary), go over the day's agenda with Mr. Lain (Sponsor), before the start of the regular meeting.

Going over last minute points before presenting a Code of Ethics panel discussion to the P. T. A., February 27, are Barry Gigstad, Marcy Pritikin, Len Meyer, Joan Comiano, Dave Cleven, and Carol Stine.

Every day, first period, members of Student Council voice the ideas of the student body. Back Row: R. Thomas, C. McGrath, K. Naylor, J. Link, J. Norberg, S. Hawk, J. Tansor, B. Enke, B. Gigstad, J. Piell. Fourth Row: M. Weingart, R. Virgilio, L. Randel, S. Backus, C. Dankowski, M. Wesley, C. Lascody, J. Erickson, J. Thornton, R. Johnson. Third Row: J. Eggersted, R. Baron, B. Peterson, K. Hine, B. Norris, A. Phaff, C. Kuchar, D. Nelson. Second Row: O. MacLeod, R. Kofoed, M. Pritikin, K. Middleton, M. Schmidt, R. Caplon. First Row: D. Cleven, Mr. Jack Lain (Sponsor), J. Keidel, L. Meyer, B. Ahlberg, K. Grubb.

VOICES STUDENT OPINION.

Throughout the year Student Council, one of the largest, busiest school organizations, industriously plans, supervises, and sponsors many different affairs. Furthermore, through this democratic body, consisting of representatives chosen from each homeroom, the students have a chance to voice their opinions, favorable or unfavorable.

Student Council is composed of several standing committees which make their reports to the general assembly at the beginning of each meeting. Following the reports, the assembly discusses the business on the agenda, which has been planned by the Executive Board previous to the meeting of the general assembly.

The Nilehi Student Council plans the Homecoming Parade, setting up specifications of size, length, and height for each class of floats; sends student representatives to code panel discussions, one of which was on television; recommends to the administration, school improvements such as pencil sharpeners and dictionaries for every room; welcomes new students and acquaints them with the school, teachers, and classmates; organizes the annual drive for the support of Lee Min Soo, the Korean orphan boy adopted four years ago by Niles; organizes the March of Dimes campaign, "Three Dimes for Three Shots," which netted over $350; and sponsors social affairs such as the dance, "Fantasie Parisienne," held March 30.

Admiring the Code of Ethics plaque which symbolizes the moral code of the school are Jack Witucki, Carol Miller, Jim Herman, Dorothy Yaver, Karen Kummerow, and Riley Morgan.

Planning and organizing the Student Council meetings are the responsibilities of the members of the Executive Board. Standing: J. Keidel, D. Cleven, B. Stryker, Mr. Lain. Seated: M. Pritikin, R. Virgilio, S. Backus, M. Portugal, R. Korson, D. Eckel, O. MacLeod, B. Fyfe, J. Tansor, J. Eggersted, B. Enke, J. Thornton, B. Crist, C. Lascody.

Student Supervised Study Halls are the pride of Nilehi. Responsible for their success are D. Wold (Head Supervisor), D. Collin, D. Cleven, J. Thornton, G. Beckway, J. Erny, A. Wittkamp, D. Michonski, D. Platt (Head Secretary), H. Dilg, and J. Cooper (Assistant Head Supervisor).

Officers of the Student Supervised Monitors discuss the possibilities of a demerit system. Standing: C. Berndt, D. Metzler, L. Schildgen, D. Nelson, R. Eaman, H. Dilg. Seated: B. Stryker (Secretary), L. Brink, S. Paul (Assistant Secretary), J. Wollin, R. Pearson (Head Monitor Captain).

SENIORS PROVIDE LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE.

Members of the Union Board discuss the choice of movie to be shown at the Saturday night party. Standing: P. Jensen, W. Bornemeier, B. Williamson, B. Gigstad, M. Tatman, H. Neimer, J. Comiano, D. Planning field trips to the Stock Yards, Indiana Sand Dunes, Starved Rock, and plays are the board members of the See Chicago Club. Back Row: D. Klinge, K. Zahn, G. Lieberenz, N. Scanlan, J. Nelson. Front Row: C. Belgarbo, J. Wollin, E. Cosley, C. Halama, Mr. Shapiro (Sponsor).

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY RECOGNIZES CHARACTER AND SCHOLARSHIP.

National Honor Society is the "Phi Beta Kappa" of the secondary school. On April 3, proud mothers and fathers, teachers, and fellow students saw twenty-five juniors and twenty-seven seniors inducted into this organization in a ceremony which was a fitting climax to four years of "scholarship, leadership, and service." These qualities, and "character," were the criteria applied by the teachers in selecting the five per cent of juniors and the twenty percent of seniors who were to stand on the stage, receive the rose and candle, and recite the pledge: "I believe in Character as the foundation of life; in Scholarship as the means to achievement; in Leadershi pas a worthy aim; and in Service as the object and end of living. To the upholding of these ideals, I now pledge myself, mind, and spirit."

Barbara Norris's and Gail Braverman's parents are as enthusiastic as their daughters upon the girls' induction into National Honor Society. Mrs. Braverman gives Gail a congratulatory kiss. Scholarship, character, leadership, and service are the subjects of speeches covered by last year's members of National Honor Society during the induction ceremony on April 10. Sarane Crowther speaks on the service required of members. The new inductees are: A. Feinberg, A. Maurizi, R. Rosenfield, A. Johnson, D. Saunders, S. Israelite, B. Gigstad, R. Guess, R. Johnson. Last year's inductees are: Back Row: M. Escher, S. Katz, C. Belgarbo, K. Carlson, M. Kamin, S. Brevick. Middle Row: F. Kiszely, D. Cleven, E. Pollock, J. Comiano. Front Row: R. Barker, S. Crowther, E. Cosley.

Nineteen of this year's senior class were inducted into National Honor Society in the spring of 1956. Back Row: S. Katz, J. Winters, D. Wold, J. Wollin, F. Kiszely, B. Oosten. Middle Row: M. Kamin, S. Crowther, M. Tatman, E. Cosley, S. Brevik, J. Michael, V. Humburg. Front Row: E. Pollock, C. Belgarbo, D. Cleven, J. Comiano, C. Stine, R. Barker.

DELIVERY OF REFLECTIONS

Looking over the dummy, Carol Stine, Debbie Rothholtz (Associate Editors), and Roberta Rice (Editor-in-Chief) are pleased with the color photography.

Veterans on the staff are Pat Leverenz, Jay Wollin, Nancy Phillips, and Sandy Dragisic, who are editors of the activities, sports, G.A.A., and the special events section.

ON JUNE 7 IS BIG DAY FOR STAFF.

"Both the advisor and staff are to be congratulated on a well edited yearbook which exemplifies a cooperative and hard working staff." This comment was made by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, which gave the '56 Reflections the First Place award. Not content with First Place, this year's staff is seeking the top honor, Medalist, which is given to not more than ten percent of publications who have received the First Place award.

Immediately after selecting the theme, "The Green Years," the staff of seven seniors and nine juniors laid out the dummy, balancing pages by providing the correct amount of white space to avoid a cluttered effect. As soon as the dummy had been approved, pictures were planned and taken. More than nine hundred pictures were taken and identified, of which eighty were English classes for the portrait section.

In the meantime, eighteen senior girls, under the direction of Mrs. Barnes, worked on the senior portrait section. Through the winter months they were busy making appointments for the seniors portraits, overseeing the filling out of activity sheets, typing, and proofreading.

The next major step for the general staff was writing copy. Questionaires were sent out to various teachers and administrators for material for the faculty and administration section. Information about the activities of fifty clubs was obtained by interviews with teachers and students. Special events, including all the dances, Reflections, and the Prom, were covered. Statistics on scores for swimming, basketball, football, and cross country had to be obtained for the sports section. In all, two hundred pages of information were sought by the staff.

With the copy written, the book was sent to the printer by the April 1 deadline. As the pages were printed, they were returned for proofreading. Finally the delivery day arrived—June 7! The yearbook was a success!

Double checking to see that names are spelled correctly and activity sheets completed, members of the Senior Section of the yearbook work under the direction of Mrs. Barnes. Back Row: G. Humburg, R. Lange, C. Robertson, D. Klinge, B. Wauthier, Mrs. Barnes (Sponsor), J. Courtney, C. Schweig, L. Forgarty, B. Wies. Middle Row: J. Nelson, L. Silverman, M. Dell'Aringa, C. Belgarbo, O. MacLeod, G. Beckway. First Row: A. Koutny, N. Scanlan, E. Cosley.

Gathering friends' signatures and well-wishes for the future are Ted Pristash, Marilyn Horn, Russ Connell, Ken Walter, Sue Ricketts, Dick Holzl, Miss Lamberg, and Lenny Miresse.

While Henry Feuerzeig (Sports Editor) lays out the sports pages for the next issue, Barry Gigstad, Bob Eaman, Dick Aull, Dorothy Platt, Dotty Mueller, and Nancy Plotnick look for a picture that tells a story.

NILEHILITE KEEPS THE STUDENTS INFORMED.

"Headline, deadline, byline." To the staff and editors of the Nilehilite these are keywords in that special language of the newspaper world.

Reporters gather tips from their beat sources on Monday. Tuesday, Mr. Eberhardt (Sponsor), the editors, and staff gather to report all. From this "pow wow" come the ideas for stories, assigned by the editors the following day. With pencil in hand and eyes wide open, these journalistic Sergeant Fridays gather the facts by talking to teachers, interviewing students, and attending sporting events. Friday deadline is fast approaching. Stories are typed, edited, and sent to lino. The return of the galleys means proofreading by the staff. With the completion of headlines and page make up, the Nilehilite is sent to press. Peace of mind comes to the editors when the paper is distributed on Friday.

Typing, proofreading, and selecting pictures for the publication of the Nilehilite are Dorothy Collin (Assistant to the Editors), Henry Feuerzeig (Sports Editor), Judy Stansfield (News Bureau Chief), and Marilyn Escher (Editor-in-Chief).

Preparing a series of editorials for the Nilehilite are Betsy Denker, Penny Hibbert, Loretta Berzon, Lee Brink, Iris Sonkin, and Gary Slavo, members of the ninth period journalism class.

Even though it wasn't "Hour Time To Win," the Golden Galleon clock placed first in class "C."

GOLDEN GALLEON COMBINES THE SOCIAL AND THE CREATIVE

Over two hundred manuscripts were submitted this year to the Golden Galleon Guild for consideration, according to the sponsor, Mrs. Parepa Rice. Forty hopeful writers, who had submitted poems, essays, or short stories on subjects from the ridiculous to the sublime, found that nothing—football letters or National Honor Society pins—is more exciting than leafing through the newly printed magazine in search of something one has written and finding it. If a piece is selected, the writer is initiated into the Guild at a banquet in June.

The Guild has its social side, too. Beside the banquet, this year's members enjoyed an associate member initiation party, held a Christmas party from which they went caroling, and gave a tea to entertain their mothers. They also worked many nights on their prize-winning, class "C" float done in the Guild colors of green and gold with the theme, "Hour Time To Win."

An additional advantage to Guild membership is eligibility for the one hundred dollar scholarships, two of which are given each year in recognition of outstanding service to the Guild, provided the student also has a record of high scholastic standing and good citizenship.

The Golden Galleon Guild encourages budding Hemingways by publishing a literary magazine. Back Row: S. Weiss, B. Oosten, D. Klinge, C. Stine, J. Comiano, N. Phillips, J. Eggersted, D. Norman. Third Row: J. Beyer, G. Behr, J. Linn, J. Godell, R. Guess. Second Row: M. Tatman, Mrs. Rice (Sponsor), A. Wulf, E. Cosley, B. Denker, M. Kamin, J. Thomas. Fourth Row: M. Walker, R. Young, S. Planning meetings, obtaining speakers, and organizing trips to such places as Glenview Naval Base are part of the job of Tri-Hi-Y Board members Alice Merwitz (Vice-President), Vicki Day (Treasurer), Marilyn Kamin (President), and Georgeanne Liddell (Secretary).

Linda Randel, Judy Matter, Linda Hubbard, Arlene Pfaff, and Carolyn Kuchar are out to "beat" Morton. Mr. Kuchar is the driver of the Tri-Hi-Y float.

TRI-HI-Y AND HI-Y

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, affiliated with the Skokie Valley Y. M. C. A., are two of the most active clubs at school. By offering a wide variety of activities, the clubs interest a large number of students. Both groups are divided into two sections, frosh-soph and junior-senior.

Hi-Y, sponsored by Mr. George Roth, had speakers address them on opportunities in various occupations. Occupations represented ranged from that of a policeman to a doctor and chemist. In March the annual Dads' and Lads' Banquet was held to initiate the new Created to provide a girl's activity on a frosh-soph level, the frosh-soph Tri-Hi-Y gives the girls a chance to be active while developing good characters and ideals. Back Row: L. Hubbard, A. members and to acquaint their fathers with the aims of the club.

Tri-Hi-Y, in keeping with the Yuletide spirit, gave their annual Christmas party at Saint Hedwig's Orphanage. The club also sponsored a dance, "Mad Moods," on February 8. One of the highlights of the year was a fashion show held April 2. The sponsor of Tri-Hi-Y is Miss Gladys Velzy. Miss Deanna Thompson and Miss Maryanne Boothe are the sponsors of the frosh-soph Tri-Hi-Y.

Spending a rare night out together are the fathers and sons, Mr. Burke, Dennis Burke, Ken Grubb, John Hederick, Mr. Hederick, Bill Ruyle, Mr. Ruyle, Paul Jensen, Mr. Jensen, who attended the Hi-Y Dads' and Lads' Banquet on March 11.

Our school spirit rises when we see the Nilehi Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Leo Provost, performing at half-time of a football game, basketball game, or at a pep assembly. At the basketball games, the Twirlers in beautiful costumes, add to the color and excitement with sparkling exhibitions of baton twirling.

The band's activities this year included precision drills at football games, a tour of all the grade schools in the township, and the spring concert in May. Also appearing at the spring concert was the Intermediate Band, directed by Mr. Provost. This band prepares students for the Concert Band by giving them valuable experience in marching and musicianship. Many of the Intermediate Band members will move up to the Concert Band at the end of the semester.

The members of the Cadet Band receive instruction in playing as a group. Back Row: Mr. Provost, (Director), T. Radtke, R. Fink, J. Journ, D. Jagielko, D. Shellist, A. Penner, M. Brooks. Third Row: I. Jann, B. Posner, J. Anderson, S. Matheson, E. Roven, A. Tallent, H. Hass, B. Woloman, J. Korsan, K. Schiffman, J. Jungwirth, A. Perl. Second Row: B. Harris, M. Wolpoff, T. Hogan, R. LaFrentz, H. # SPRING FESTIVAL PAYS VOCAL TRIBUTE TO AMERICA.

Tickets to this year's all-student musical production were just as hard to get as those to "My Fair Lady." The musical "Riding High," written by the steering group headed by Arlene Atwood and Wally Bornemeier, was presented by the music department on May 24 and 25. This rollicking comedy about two sailors on leave in New York City, played by Lee Brink and Wally Bornemeier, was highlighted by such impressive numbers as the "Skyscraper Fantasy" and the haunting "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue."

The orchestra and vocal groups also took part in the annual spring festival in which they paid a special tribute to America. The weeks of practicing were rewarded by the thrill of hearing four hundred voices singing "Ode to America" and the timeless "America, the Beautiful."

The Boys' Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. McGee and Mr. Auge, is composed of boys from all four class levels. Back Row: J. Bagwell, M. Maeder, F. Feldman, D. Levin, W. Dethlason, J. Harms, B. Ebbert, A. Sussman, C. Ragland, D. Hildebrand, D. Gonzales, Fourth Row: J. Rutheford, J. Benson, A. Ferachi, G. Weiss, B. Melnick, S. Panzella, J. Calamaras, J. Byrd, D. Wicker, B. Kuhl, F. Link. Third Row: R. Knutson, O. Swartch, R. Bachman, D. Galardt, N. Wolf, S. Saken, P. Burtner, H. Ruthenburg, M. Brown, S. Pearson, D. Hansen. Second Row: M. Stronberg, D. Steinseifer, G. Billings, J. # PLACES EVERYONE . . .

A stay "out of my field" expression is seen on the faces of Ken White (Tommy Green), Margo Calamaras (Joan Carol), Marilyn Barnett (Jeannie Carol), and Mike Sheahan (Eddie Davis) watching Ginger Golden (Ginger), who is planning to make the football team in Time Out for Ginger.

Thespians express joy, sorrow, surprise and triumph through play productions sponsored by the drama department. Listening critically to a scene from Dino are: Back Row: T. Conners, K. Klinge, L. Eggers, M. Calamaras, R. Ricordati, J. Cooper, Miss Stemp (Sponsor). Third Row: N. Messer, S. Levin, M. Marks, M. Skolnik, J. Stansfield, R. Keats, J. Comiano. Second Row: W. Bornemeier, J. Burt, N. Wold (President) and S. Crowther (Secretary).

CURTAIN GOING UP!

In Mr. Barry's Etchings, Sandra Hagen (Mrs. Griswold) utters a final warning to Margo Calamaras (Carol Plunkett), Tom Conners (Mr. Sam Jordan), Gary Kreuger (Bud), and Gayle Beckway (Carrie Stanwich) that from now on she will run the town of Stanwich.

"Curtain time—five minutes."

Unknown to the gathering audience, backstage is in a dither. Lines are gone over, last minute technical difficulties of sound, stage, and front lighting are straightened out, and make up retouched as the clock ticks away the last few minutes. Stage fright, excitement, and anticipation cause the well-known butterflies.

"Curtain going up!"

The audience knows little of the work required before these words can be spoken. In selecting a play, Miss Stemp is faced with many questions. Can it be produced on our stage? Is the set and lighting too complex? Is it suitable for high school? Is it good literature? Is is worthwhile educationally? Can the talent available handle the roles? Is it too expensive to present? Is the cast too large or too small? Having faced these problems, Miss Virginia Stemp and her Thespians presented Mr. Barry's Etchings and Dino in the 1956-57 season. Members of the Thespians and Spotlighters, the two dramatic organizations, not only act but also assist with designs, sound, lighting, and make-up. The prerequisite for initiation into Thespians is a record of at least one hundred hours spent on drama productions.

All is in readiness backstage for the performance of Mr. Barry's Etchings: the characters are on stage and the crew is ready to relax-temporarily. Back Row: Sue Goldberg, Mike Skolnick, Mariana Marks, Mrs. Hobbs. Front Row: Gayle Beckway, Iris Johns, Sheila Erdmann.

Spotlighters Club, the stepping stone to becoming a Thespian, presented a three act play for grammar school students. Going over the script are Judy Wilson, Judy Burt (Vice-President), Beth Hampel, and Gayle Beckway (President).

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Looking forward to the Mexico trip are officers of the Spanish Club, Pat Baumann (President), Mr. da Rosa (Sponsor), Dorothy Platt (Secretary), and David Metzler (Vice-President). Sponsoring dances, eating a la espanol, and getting to know Mexico better are some activities of the club.

INCREASE OUR UNDERSTANDING OF OTHER PEOPLES

Gloria Mengarelli, a consul of Latin Club, shows Judy Schutz, Quaestor, (Treasurer), Judy Ericksen, Scriba, (Secretary), and Don Saunders, (Consul) how the battering ram, a Roman weapon of warfare, works.

Seeing a bullfight in Mexico City and writing valentines in Latin are only two examples of the many activities of the foreign language clubs, whose purpose is to give a broader concept of the various languages than can be gained in the classroom. Language club students also acquire an understanding of the culture of the nations whose languages they study.

The Spanish Club with Mr. da Rosa as advisor sponsored a dance "La Fiesta," and had a dinner at the La Siesta. The biggest undertaking of the year, however, was the spring trip to Mexico planned by Mr. Blair, Chairman of the Foreign Language department. There, the students had the opportunity to test their ability to speak Spanish and view the customs and culture of old Mexico. They saw such relics of the Aztec civilization as the Pyramid of the Sun and studied Spanish art at the Palacio de Belles Artes. A highlight of the trip was the stay at the famous seaside resort of Acapulco.

In March, the Latin Club was host to students from twenty other schools for the District Latin Contest, the first test of three culminating in the Illinois State Latin Contest. One hundred thirty-three candidates participated. Donna Bistalfo, Aaron Bloch, Joan Wolter, Judy Erickson, Bernard Roos, and Mike Sacks all received superior ratings and are eligible for the Sectional Contest to be held on April 13. After taking a difficult exam, the contestants were entertained at lunch by the members of the club. The "grandeur that was Rome" was revived May 16 when the club gave its annual banquet. Dressed in togas, stallas, and tunics, and eating food much the same as the Romans did, revived the Roman way of life.

The German Club showed movies taken in Germany to help recreate the atmosphere of Deutschland. They also had the advantage of having several student members from Germany who could tell about that country from a teenager's point of view.

As Sandy Schmidt (Secretary) takes notes, Betty Stine (President) and Charles Ragland (Vice-President) lead a discussion on the government of Germany. Back Row: Allan Goodman, Bill Gutowsky, Joe Siciliani, Michael Nineberg, Rosemary Gustafson, Cynthia Weber, Phyllis Groah, Miss Wohlfahrt (Sponsor). Front Row: Kitty Mueller, Rita Ryewski, Harry Toxin, Stanley Berman, Lance Lindquist.

WINS WESTINGHOUSE SCHOLARSHIP.

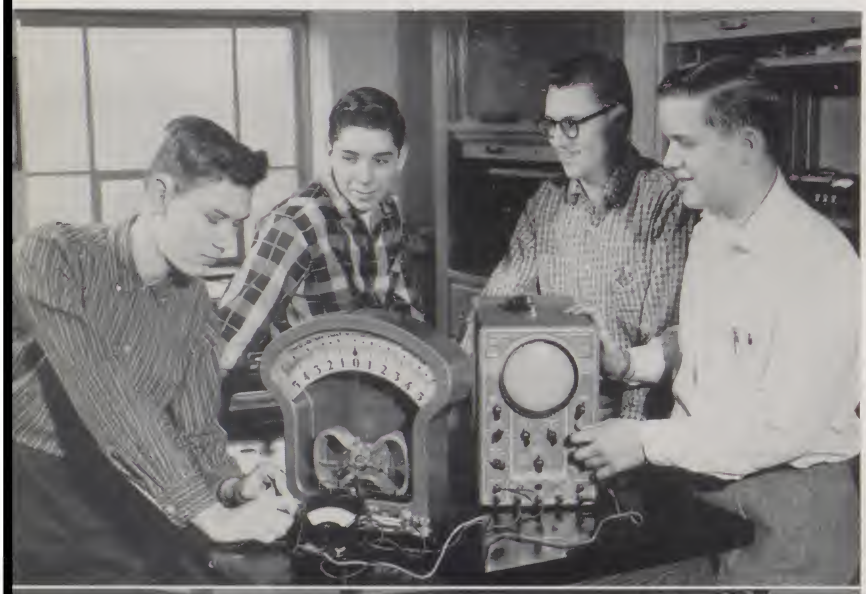
Testing a galvanometer and oscillograph during a Physics Club meeting are Dick Young (President), David Turner, Paul Carder (Vice-President), and Mike LeVine.



To further develop scientific interest and ability, a Science Seminar has been instituted at Niles. Students recommended by their science teachers take an entrance examination. If the student passes this examination, he is assisted in the project he decides upon by leading Skokie scientists: Dr. Richard Edgren, Dr. Evelyn Tyner, and Mr. David Calhoun.

Ed Pollock, a member of the Science Seminar since its beginning, placed among the ten top junior scientists in the nation-wide Westinghouse Talent Search. After placing in the top forty on the basis of an examination, Ed traveled to Washington for the final judging. Ed's project on growth inhibition by the use of chemicals on planaria helped him to win a four hundred dollar scholarship.

Also offered to interested students are the Biology and Physics Clubs. These provide a place where students of the same class level can get together and delve deeper into the mysterious world of science.

Mr. Hussey, sponsor of the Biology Club, looks on as Carl Siegel (President) explains a biology project on mushrooms to Eleanor Schramm (Treasurer), Joan Eggersted (Secretary), and Mike Banks (Vice-President).

Judy Hanelin practices her speech for the American Legion oratorical contest before a critical audience, the other contestants. Back Row: Jay Wollin, Mr. Van Arsdale (Coach), David Cleven, Joan Comiano. Middle Row: Russ Kofoed, Vicki Day, Stanley Berman, Carol Stine, Mary Ann Reese, Carole Crafton. Front Row: Judy Moss, Joel Aaronson, Sally Brevik, Toni Greene, Marlene Derman, Susan Levin, Rochelle Silverstein.

DEBATERS WIN

EIGHT OUT OF TWELVE AT AUGUSTANA.

This year, after working their way through a maze of such terms as "parity," "soil bank," and "agricultural reserve," the Niles debaters were a formidable foe to the Chicago area teams. The year's debate proposition was the controversial question of "Aid to the Farmer." The team finished with a record of eighty-six wins and eighty-two losses.

One of the high points of the season came when the varsity debaters met teams from all over Iowa and Illinois at the Augustana College Tournament to come home with an eight out of twelve record, the best Niles has ever done.

The Debate Team is proud of their growing reputation and increasing number of trophies, the result of burning midnight oil and spending hours in musty library files. Standing: Dr. Betts, Mr. Mattka (Sponsors), R. Wanke, S. Rosen, A. Bloch, S. Berman, J. Wollin, J. Aaronson, E. Pollock, C. Stine. Second Row: M. Lewis, R. Kofoed, A. Goldsmith, G. LaBarbera, D. The service organizations keep Nilehi running smoothly and efficiently. Whenever you buy a ticket to a football game, see an educational film in a classroom, use the library facilities, or have help in finding a good seat at a play or program, you have the service organizations to thank for making your life more simple and pleasant.

The Ticket Sales Club, sponsored by Mr. John Hallberg, handles the tickets for all school functions. For Reflections Revelries alone, some 1328 tickets were sold. Members of the Ushers Club, under the direction of Miss Lorraine Hatscher, facilitate seating at such school events. The more than fifty pieces of precision equipment and hundreds of filmstrips, recordings, and films available for use in classrooms and by after-school groups are administered by the Visual Aids Operators Club. Miss Norma Barts (Sponsor) said that about three hundred and fifty films were rented this year. Members of the library staff, under the supervision of Miss Mary Walker, check books in and out, re-shelve books, and assist students in the location of books and magazine articles. The Welfare Committee sponsors the Red Cross and March of Dimes campaigns. This year the Welfare Committee collected $360 for charity.

TROJAN HEADS ARE "BLOODY

Six losses, one tie and one non-Suburban League win were the best the varsity football team could do this year Hopes were high when Bremen, a non-conference foe, was soundly whipped 32-7 in the opening game of the season, but the Trojans could only tie Highland Park 19-19 later in the season. However, the Oak Park game was generally considered to be the best-played Trojan game of the season. The final gun found Niles on Oak Park's three yard line with the Oak Park "Huskies" leading by one point, 21-20.

Although losing 7-6 at the half, the Trojans went on to defeat Bremen 33-7 in the season's opener.

Although well coached by Mr. Basrak, Mr. Odlivak, Mr. Frala and Mr. Sortal, the team was not as strong defensively or offensively this year. Frank Kiszely and Bill Pegausch were elected as captains, and Ted Swanson was chosen the team's most valuable player by his teammates. Frank Kiszely was the only Trojan player to make the first string All-Suburban team, but Bill Pegausch, Jim Tomsik, and Bob Hartig gained second team honors while Bob Weldon, Ed Jaster, and Ron Chez received honorable mention.

The referee hurries out of the way as Tom Baumann sweeps around the end in the Oak Park game. Although this game was considered the best game played by the Trojans, they lost 21-20 in the final seconds.

SOPHOMORES WIN THREE OUT OF EIGHT.

Excellent offensive blocking from Ron Henrici, Bill McGrath, and Jim Coursey helps Les Lange gain yards in the Bremen game.

The sophomores won three and lost five games, a better record than their varsity superiors. The able coaching of Mr. Byram, assisted by Mr. Coyer and Mr. Hoosline, paid off in an early win. Meeting Bremen in the first game of the season, the sophomore hustlers scored 31 points to Bremen's none for a shutout opener. The team could score only one touchdown per game against Waukegan and New Trier but bounced back to overthrow Highland Park by tripling their score 39 to 13. Oak Park, Morton, and Proviso could score only seven points apiece against Niles' onslaught the final three games of the season. The large number of players this year, forty-five, should provide good varsity material in future years.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

New to high school football, freshmen receive training that will eventually mold them into a hard fighting varsity team. The coaching of Mr. Markus, Mr. Wright, and Mr. Schnurr taught the freshmen to keep their heads low and fight. That the future Trojans learned well is shown by their record of five wins and three losses. Though unusually small (in spite of the large number of freshmen enrolled at Niles) the team again showed that younger teams often turn in better records than their varsity elders. Early in the season the freshmen beat Waukegan 19-7 and Highland Park 13-6, but it wasn't until the very end of the season that the team finally hit its stride. Oak Park, Morton, and Proviso were amazed to find themselves scoreless when the final quarter ended.

TWO-MILERS BEAT WAUKEGAN AND HIGHLAND PARK

Both varsity and sophomore teams made this year the best in history for Nilehi cross country. Last year both captured their first Suburban League win; this year both teams took two victories, each beating Highland Park and Waukegan. Coached by Mr. Harmon, the varsity two-milers ran up impressive individual as well as team records. The school records fell when Don Peters ran the course in 9:54. In the conference meet Jerry Keidel placed fifth while Don Peters placed seventh. In addition, Niles took seventh place in our district meet.

The sophomores, running a mile and a half in competition, were also coached to a record season by Mr. Harmon. Among the outstanding frosh-soph harriers were Al Goodman, Dick Hildebrandt, Bill Nack, and Bruce Stein. With minor award winners returning as well, next year also is expected to be a successful year in cross country.

This year's varsity cross country team gains the best season's record in the history of Nilehi with two wins and six losses. Back Row: Bill Connel, Bill Ihne, John Dragisic, Dave Murie, Stan Bennett, Bruce Fyfe, Dick Rosenfield, Jerry Keidel. Second Row: Dick Ablin, Gene Igolka, Hans Jung, Dick Nelson, Larry VanMersbergen, Don Manaugh. First Row: Dick Pankey, Don Peters, Bill Ahlberg, Ken Grubb, Bob Dell.

The sophomore cross country team also set a mark by winning two meets. Back Row: A. Goodman, D. Lund, M. Peppercorn, J. Conrak, B. Stein, R. Levin, S. Adelman, W. McDowell, Mr. Harmon (Coach). Second Row: M. White, R. Krone, N. Siegal, W. Nack, J. Tansor, R. Hildebrandt, J. Claus. First Row: M. Blumenthal, J. Ziegler, H. Sherman, D. Anderson, J. LaFrentz, D. Hedberg.

STRIDE IN REGIONALS

A season's training under a new coach, Mr. Sortal, paid off where it counted the most for the varsity roundballers—at the Regional Basketball Tournament. With only three wins behind them in the regular season, Niles was considered an easy mark by the other teams. Only a small crowd was present for the first game, but the final score showed that Niles had easily defeated Glenbrook, 76-44. Arlington Heights played the victorious Niles the next evening and fell 74-66 before the splendid playing and teamwork of the Trojan team. The huge crowd of 1100 fans cheered Niles on against Leyden for the Regional Championship. The score was tied when the final whistle blew. With an all out effort, the varsity five pulled four points ahead in overtime, but with victory still in their eyes, saw their lead dwindle, then disappear, to lose by three points.

Although having individually good players, the team took only three wins out of nineteen games, beating Leyden, Highland Park, and Maine. Center Larry Van Mersbergen was the high scorer for the team, often averaging 25 to 30 points a game. Eight of the twelve disappointed, but not discouraged varsity, will return next year to try again.

Forced to hurl a two handed overhead shot at the basket, Jerry Keidel's shot is almost blocked by an Evanston player.

High point of the varsity season was the winning of their first two Regional games. Back Row: Mr. Sortal (Coach), Mr. Frala (Trainer), Mr. Basrak (Assistant Coach), Larry Van Mersbergen (Most Valuable Player), Wayne Kerstetter, Ron Henrici, Bob Ebbert, Ken De Mano, Mike Harris, (Mgr.). First Row: John Dragisic, Hal Neimer (Captain), Bill Ihne, Jerry Keidel, Glen Herriot, Tom Baumann.

Outnumbered but not outjumped, Wayne Kerstetter grimaces as he tears the ball away from a group of Evanston players.

High jumping John Dragisic tips the ball out of the hands of a Proviso player into the waiting arms of Hal Neimer. Niles lost the game 56 to 33.

A quick overhand pass from Larry Van Mersbergen to Jerry Keidel finds Keidel in the open. Although scoring two points on the play, Niles later lost to Oak Park 60 to 57.

Larry Van Mersbergen screens for Jerry Keidel by carefully blocking two Oak Park players as Jerry dribbles into scoring position.

SOPHOMORES ARE FATED TO LOSE CLOSE GAMES.

Ron Lis steals the ball away from an Oak Park defender, as Bill Johns and Les Lange rush in to help.

The frosh-soph team had many close games this season: seven games ended with Niles winning or losing by three points or less. Coached by Mr. Phipps, the sophomore Trojans beat Leyden in their first game by two points, (34-32). Soon after, Highland Park fell, also by two points (26-24). Meeting up with Waukegan, Niles sank a total of 50 points, this time to win the close game by three points. Ending the season with a second game against Waukegan, the team finished with a grand flourish, winning 36-30. Ron Lis, one of the best shots on the team, sank seven out of eleven in the second half, pulling Niles into the lead. Aided by the rebounding of Charles Wheat, Bill Johns, and Bill Reading, Niles went on to win the game and to finish the season with a four win, twelve loss record.

JUNIOR VARSITY AND FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The junior varsity team turned out a poor record of one win and fourteen losses this year, even with the excellent coaching of Mr. Basrak. Losing once miserably to Waukegan, 83 to 25, the young varsity team swore vengance and got it the next time Waukegan was played—the final game of the season. Winning 52-44, the future varsity team also scored the highest number of single game points for the season.

Mr. Leo Hoosline's frosh team racked up the best record of all the basketball teams, winning six and losing nine. In the first game of the season, Leyden gave way to the hard playing freshmen. Highland Park and Oak Park both bowed before the superior Niles team twice, and New Trier lost 56 to 46 to end a good season.

FOUR SCHOOL RECORDS ARE BROKEN AND ONE TIED

Coach Tony Schubert said this year's swimming team was "the strongest and best balanced team ever to swim at Niles." Proving this statement is the fact that four school records were broken and one was tied: records were set by the 200 yard medley relay team of Jim Iverson, Burt Feingold, Dave Oakes and Charles Breen; the 200 yard free-style relay team of Charles Breen, Dave Morgan, Stan Bennett and Bill Yant; the 100 yard backstroke by Dave Oakes; and the 150 yard individual medley by Bill Yant, who was voted most valuable by his teammates. Norm Carberry tied the 200 yard free-style record set back in 1952 by Dean Ness. During a hot streak, the varsity tanksters swept six straight wins. A total of seven wins netted the team fifth place in the Suburban League.

Stan Bennett takes off on the third leg of the 200 yard free-style relay.

The wrestling teams this year made one of the outstanding records in several seasons with the varsity scoring 12 wins and 4 losses and the sophomores taking 4 wins and 10 losses. Of the varsity's twelve wins the two most cherished were the wins over Waukegan and Maine, which were the first wins over these two schools in the history of Nilehi wrestling. Another "first" that our matmen chalked up this season was sending three men, Ron Johnson, Ron Chez, and Henry Feuerzeig, to the state finals. Feuerzeig, varsity ninety-five pounder, placed fourth in the state and was elected most valuable wrestler by his teammates. The team took twenty-ninth place in the state. Hopes are high for next year's team, as only three of the twelve varsity wrestlers will graduate this year.

NILES GOLFERS WIN OVER PALATINE 9 TO 6.

This year's team of three seniors, six juniors, and two sophomores began dusting their woods and polishing their irons for practice early in April. Even before the snow had completely gone, two returning lettermen, Ken De Mano and Stuart Anderson, had added twenty years to their last year's average of two hundred yards for fairway drives. Stuart Anderson, who is known to the team as their "power driver," now averages two hundred and thirty yards for fairway drives. The five men who will play in the contests with other schools are chosen through elimination rounds. These top five may be challenged for their position at any time by other members of the team. These elimination rounds, challenges, and contests are held at Arlington Country Club, which is considered one of the toughest courses in this area. Our two highest averages, seventy-eight and eighty, are held by Ken De Mano and Stuart Anderson.

TROJANS HEAD LEAGUE WITH FOUR WINS AND ONE LOSS.

"With a few breaks, any team has a chance to win the championship of Suburban League this year: the teams are the most balanced in League's history," was the prediction of varsity coach Jim Phipps. This year, with one of the strongest teams in recent years, Niles should get that break. In the opener, Niles won over Maine 5 to 4, following this with a 6 to 3 win over Glenbrook. Evanston fell twice in a double-header, 5 to 2 and 16 to 15. Coming back after losing to Morton 12 to 5, the Phipps' men beat Oak Park 2 to 1. Four returning lettermen helped the teams to this four and one start. Bill Ihne, the only returning junior letterman, received his letter for excellent work at first base. Southpaw Jim Tomsik returns for his second year as a hard hitting outfielder, and "Old Timer" Bill Pegausch, with three years on the varsity squad, is considered one of the best catchers in the League. Captain this year, as well as last year's captain and most valuable player, is Hal Neimer who hit .479 last year, making him second in the League. Hal does an equally fine job at shortstop or on the pitcher's mound. Despite the mud and rain which cut pre-season practice to one week, the Trojans headed the League with four wins and one loss.

Eager but soaked, the freshman and sophomore baseball teams have had all but two games cancelled because of April showers. Sophomores swept their opening game from Glenbrook, finishing the nine innings with 9 runs to Glenbrook's 2. Evanston squeezed by the soph squad in their second game, 8 to 5. Although hurt by the loss of Ron Lis to the varsity, the sophs still expect a good season.

All eyes are on the freshmen this year. Glenbrook easily fell 10 to 2 before the hard hitting of the freshmen in the first game of the year. Highlight of this game was a spectacular major league catch by Frank Warda, who hauled down a hard hit ball in left field with two men on and two out. By far the most exciting game of the season was the Evanston game, where the frosh squad batted in two runs in the seventh to give them the lead and, holding that lead, went on to beat Evanston, 6 to 5.

FORTUNA AND PETERS PACE TRACKMEN IN EARLY SEASON MEETS.

With only two returning lettermen, John Sefick and Dick Rosenfield, the varsity track team lacks experience and depth. However, in the mile run two seniors, Dave Murie and Don Peters, in early season performances have done well. Peters placed third in the Suburban League indoor meet and first in the Lake Shore meet. Murie placed third in the Lake Shore meet. In the 440 yard dash Dick Rosenfield, a returning letterman, was hampered by a pulled leg muscle. However, Tom Baumann, a junior, placed fourth in the Suburban League indoor meet. John Sefick, the second returning letterman, also has shown promise. At the Lake Shore meet he captured a ribbon in the pole vault. The most promising of all Trojan runners is Frank Fortuna, a junior sprinter who won the 100 yard dash and placed third in the 220 yard dash at the Lake Shore meet. He has scored 45 points in only four meets.

Although the varsity is a small squad, the frosh-soph squad is the largest Trojan track team in the last six years. The outstanding member is Don Hansen who won the frosh-soph mile run in the Lake Shore meet and in two dual meets.

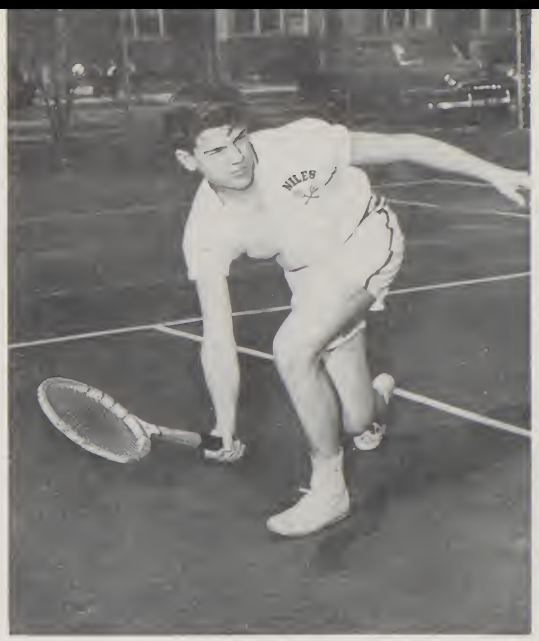
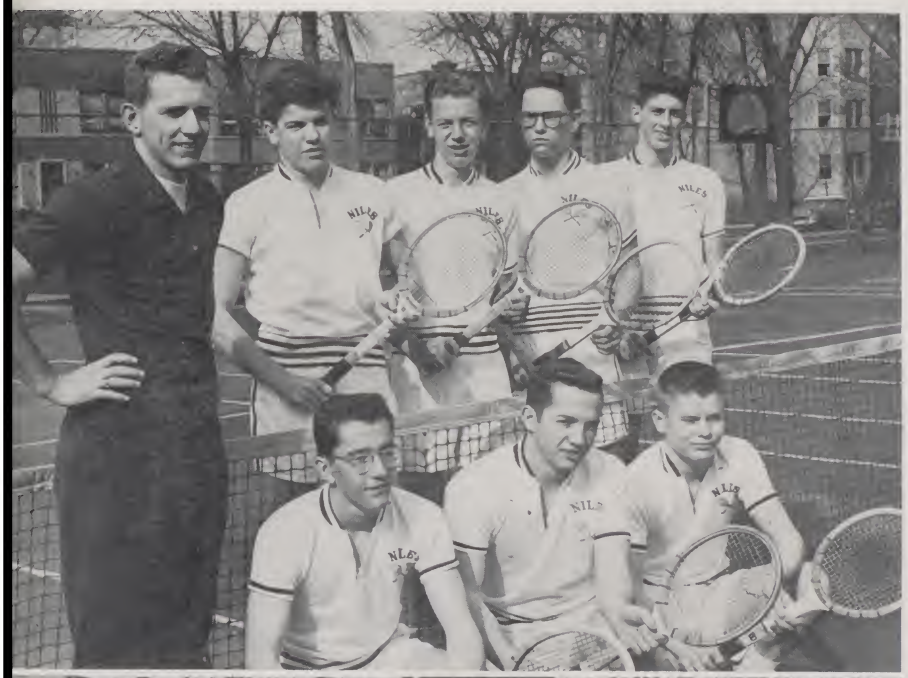
TENNIS TEAMS OPEN SEASON WITH A WIN OVER MORTON, 4 TO 1.

The varsity tennis team opened the season by losing 5 to 0 to Arlington. After losses to Main and Evanston, the team rebounded from this losing streak to win over Morton, 4 to 1. Bruce Eggersted, Carroll Eichhorn, and Ron Johnson are returning lettermen.

The frosh soph team won one out of four of its opening matches, beating Arlington by a score of 3 to 2. After defeats by Maine and Evanston, the team lost a close one to Morton, 3 to 2. With five remaining meets, the State Finals, and the Suburban League Meet to go, Coach Markus looks forward to improving the early season record.



Carroll Eichhorn volleys a fast-moving ball to his opponent.



High points of the season for the varsity team was the victory at Morton, 4 to 1. Back row: Mr. Markus (Coach), Carroll Eichhorn, Ron Carlson, Jim Van Der Velde, Bob Glassberg. First row: Bruce Eggersted, Dick Hodgkinson, Ron Johnson.

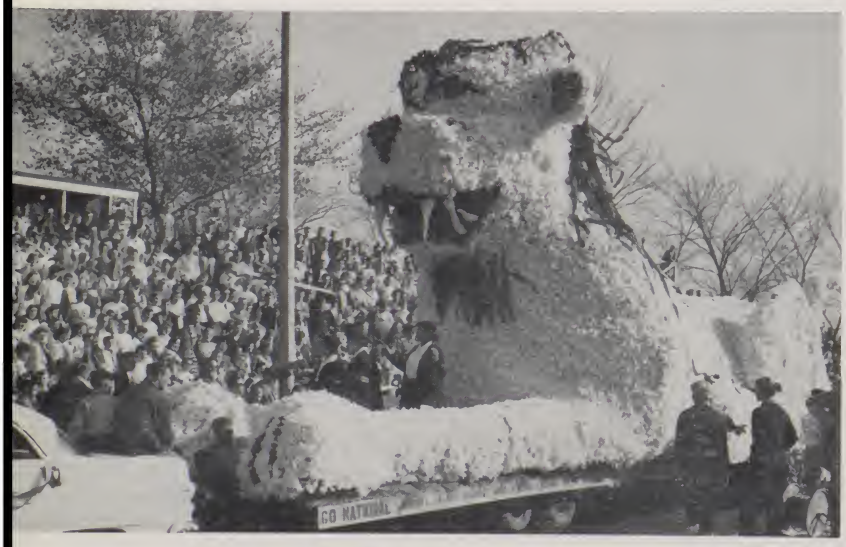
N-CLUB TAKES FIRST PLACE IN HOMECOMING PARADE.

N-Club members pitched in to build a winning float for this year's Homecoming Parade. Back row: R. Hartig, W. Enke, D. Rosenfield, D. Horsman, A. Manchester, C. Eichhorn, D. Murie. Fourth row: V. Donile, K. DeMano, J. Thornton, W. Yant, E. Jaster, R. Korsan, D. Nelson, W. Pegausch. Third row: D. Wright, K. Middleton, R. VcnPelt, B. Savis, T. Paulus, C. Richardson, B. Eggersted, M. Evans. Second row: D. Minkely, S. Bennett, R. Johnson, C. Reynolds, R. Larson, T. Baumann, D. Peters. First row: Mr. Basrak (Sponsor), H. Neimer (Sec.-Treas.), F. Kiszely (President), H. Feuerzeig (Vice-President), T. Swanson (Sgt. at Arms), Mr. Frala (Sponsor).

The goal of every Nilehi athlete is to earn a major "N," entitling him to join the N-Club. A Mickey Mouse cap, a sheer blouse, a tie worn backward, Bermuda shorts, and laceless gym shoes were donned by hopeful pledges on initiation day in December. In addition to carrying five books and a 12 inch doll, they shined at least ten pairs of N-Club members' shoes. Well known for their construction of first place floats, the N-Club again won first place in the Homecoming Parade with a huge lion. Highlight of the N-Club activities was the N-Club vs. Faculty basketball game, won again this year by the faculty. Money received from the game was used to buy a new lens for the school movie camera.



The N-Club wasn't "lion" when they said this year's float would win first place in the Homecoming Parade.

Varsity cheerleaders Adrienne Lee, Sonja Sebby, Renee Baron, Beth Williamson, Alva Sholin, and Diane Jefferson had the spirit and gave it to us during the Regionals at Glenbrook.

"WE'RE FROM NILES—COULDN'T BE PROUDER!"

Susan Stockmar, Marilyn Barnett, and Nat Johnson couldn't be prouder of their sophomore football team which whipped Highland Park 39-13.

By the bus load they're off to the Regionals at Glenbrook! Through victory and defeat our three cheerleading squads literally "knocked themselves out" sparking the enthusiasm of the fans! (Who will ever forget the varsity cheerleader who fainted from excitement during the Regionals?) Selected by a committee composed of a member of the faculty, Pep Club, N-Club, Student Council, and cheerleading sponsor, candidates for the squad were selected on basis of co-ordination, voice, and spirit. Cheerleaders practice three days a week under the direction of Mrs. Marie Wise, sponsor; they work on co-ordination of jumps, yells, and motions. This year for the first time the freshmen had their own cheerleaders to support their teams.

"You gotta, you gotta, you gotta have pep! You gotta, you gotta, you gotta get hep!" Freshmen cheerlealers Anita Musgrave, Gladys Lindberg, Judy Young, and Jackie Hillstrand cheered freshmen football team to the record of five wins and three losses.

Late hours, early rising, endless yards of chicken wire, and white napkins built Moby Dick, the G.A.A. float which took second place in Class A of the Homecoming Parade.

Eileen Corr and Judy Godell take time out from their job of transforming the gyms into a snowy paradise for the Christmas Dance "Winter Wonderland."

After Dottie Platt had entertained at the Old Folk's Home in Norwood Park, she helped serve the refreshments.

G. A. A.
IS ATHLETIC, AESTHETIC, AND SOCIAL.

What is GAA? To freshmen, GAA is the club to which they can turn for friends and fun. To sophomores, GAA is a way of enjoying after school hours, of relieving school tension, and of assuming responsibility by being a sports manager. To juniors, GAA offers the opportunity of being treasurer or secretary, of attending GAA Leadership Camp, and of developing specific sport interests. To seniors, GAA means leadership, through the vice-presidency and presidency; rewards, through receiving the Arlene M. Merz Scholarship; the experience of trying out one's vocational interests while still in high school.

GAA is athletic, offering a well-rounded program which includes horsebackriding, volleyball, tumbling, bowling, golf, and softball. Tournaments, trophies and awards add incentive to participation. GAA is aesthetic, offering modern dance and synchronized swimming. In the water show and the modern dance program, the GAA girls are given opportunities to demonstrate for the public those skills which they have learned. GAA is social, sponsoring the Christmas Dance and Spring Turn-about, entertaining at the Old Folk's Home, entering a float in the Homecoming Parade, and attending playdays.

Through coordination of these many activities, GAA achieves its goals of teamwork and sportsmanship.

As March was one of the GAA's busiest months, Executive Board members Nancy Phillips (President), Iris Sonkin (Secretary), Debbie Rothholtz (Vice-President), and Betty Farwell (Treasurer), consult the bulletin board for the dates on the T. V. program and Horse Show.

"I think we should name the spring turn-about 'Commotion in the Ocean' . . . No, the name should be 'Of the Sea.'" GAA board members work together to iron out the club's problems. Back Row: K. Mueller, J. Dunn, M. Kamin, P. Harvis, B. Krumseig, C. Belgarbo, B. Barabas, R. Simmons, J. Babcock. Front Row: J. Sodeman, D. Stiska, B. Matayka, J. Roubal, D. Platt, K. Kent, J. Godell, E. Corr.

The qualification test for membership in Ripplettes Swim Club included a length of the front crawl, back stroke, side stroke, breast stroke, and sculling combined with ballet legs, surface dive, ballet dive, and dolphin. Back Row: G. Johnson, D. Stiska, J. Groeber, B. Farwell. Fourth Row: M. O'Beirne, J. Sonne, L. Levitt, D. Platt, C. Belgarbo, S. Waddell, B. Oosten, B. Barker. Third Row: L. McColloch, K. Kent, A. Blott, J. Pitt, B. Stryker, S. Paul, L. Betts, P. Deck. Second Row: G. Harrison, J. Petersen, P. Walker, S. Schmidt, C. Patzold, B. Ritter. Front Row: K. Hansen, S. Brin, J. Robb, M. Carroll, L. Copp, F. Griesdorf.

Pointing their toes and keeping their legs straight, J. Peterson, B. Ritter, S. Schmidt, and K. Hansen demonstrate the four stages of a ballet leg.

Clad in leotards, which lend themselves to graceful dancing, Cecilia Belgarbo, Ginny Snyder, Dottie Platt, Diane Jefferson, and Mary O'Beirne surrender to the beating drums, which inspire a dance composition during a practice session of Senior Orchesis, GAA's newly formed modern dance group.

Fore! The perfect timing and accuracy of M. Stone, J. Frankfort, J. Chester, and N. Johnson result in good golfing form.

Miss Racine (Sponsor), Mrs. Leadley (Trainer), and Barb Krumseig helped the riding club plan and put on a Horse Show. Members of GAA's riding club are C. Zehnle, J. Pitt, D. Swanson, C. Brandt, M. Mitchell, J. Polly, J. Peterson, B. Theis, M. Maselli, and S. Kruger.

"It's another strike!!! . . . One more and you'll have a turkey." GAA bowlers Kitty Mueller, Judy Sodeman, Jean Dunn, Phylis Roubal, and Iris Sonkin meet weekly at Gabby Hartnett's.

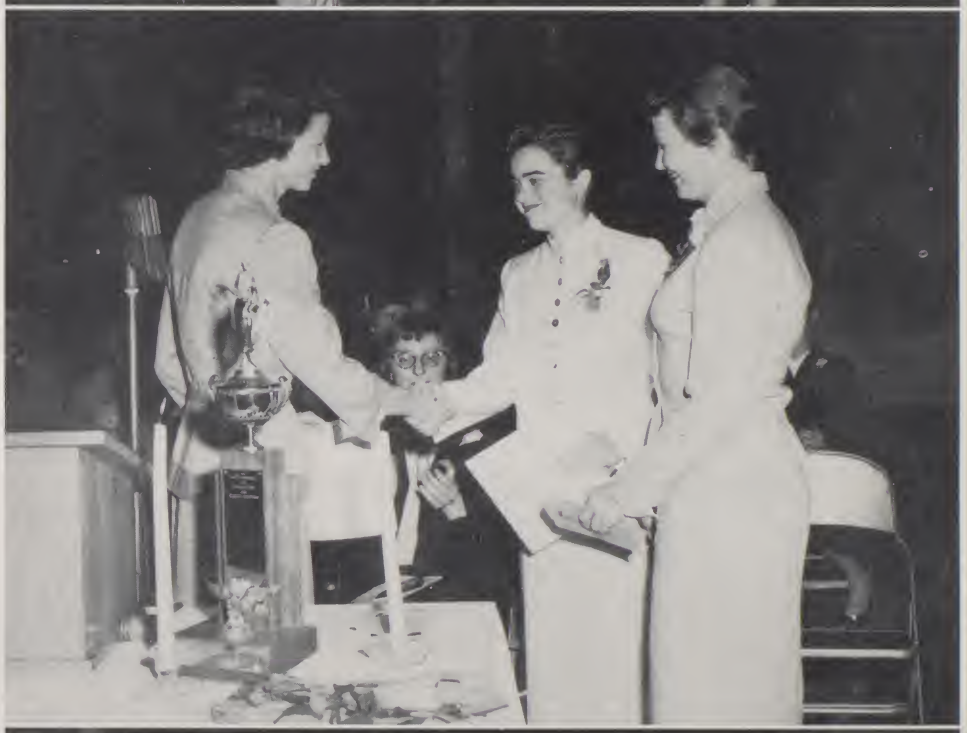
Breaking through the shifting-zone defense thrown up by Barbara Olsen and Joyce Chapnick, Kitty Mueller illustrates the correct form for a lay-up shot.

"Your kick is to fast . . . Breathe on your right side." Junior and senior Swim Leaders assume the responsibility of helping the P. E. teachers instruct students in correct techniques. Back Row: L. McColloch, S. Paul, B. Oosten, B. Barker, J. Masters, R. Keats. Middle Row: J. Peterson, D. Courtright, D. Platt, M. Walker, A. Finzel, M. Carroll, A. Merwitz. Front Row: J. Frankfort, F. Budnick, D. Stiska, F. Allendorfer, S. Waddell, A. Ide.

In tumbling, practice results in precision and proficiency. B. Krumseig and C. May perform headstands, while E. Corr and L. May hold a table.

Armed with their whistles, Junior and senior Gym Leaders learn the correct way to officiate and instruct in sports activities. Back Row: I. Sonkin, R. Baron, M. Calamaras, A. Matson, V. Day, A. Merwitz. Middle Row: A. Lee, R. Virgilio, G. Ratieke, S. Weiss, L. Faesier, B. Deitch, K. Mueller. Front Row: R. Simmons, J. Sodeman, B. Matayka, E. Corr, B. Shipka.

There is more to volleyball than playing the game; scoring, timing, refereeing, are important aspects of the sport. Sue Weber and Roberta Kiviluoma prepare for a game during the GAA spring tournament.



Miss Helen Heitmann, head of the Girl's Physical Education Department, congratulates Lennie McColloch and Eileen Corr, the two juniors chosen to represent GAA at Leadership Camp.

"I promise to uphold the ideals of the Girl's Athletic Association, by promoting interest in athletics . . ." At the GAA formal initiation, S. Backus, W. Dorrian, E. Schramm, K. Zyker, and J. Godell receive their roses and pins.

THE SUN SHINES ON HOMECOMING '56!

After days of sawing wood, hammering nails, raiding the local stores for crepe paper, chicken wire, and paper napkins, and working late into the night, the big day arrived—Homecoming '56.

Homecoming morning found us up at six, shivering while we stuffed, stapled, and worried. The float we thought would never be completed was finally finished. We then headed for Oakton Park to take our place in line for the traditional Homecoming parade. How we laughed as G.A.A.'s whale spouted! How we prayed when the "N" Club's lion barely missed the telephone wires! These are the moments we will never, ever forget. We cheered, we laughed, we sang throughout our memorable parade!

"Go, team, go—fight, team, fight!" echoed through the stands, as we wildly cheered on our team during the warm autumn afternoon. After the game we rushed home to catch a "wink of sleep" before the dance. We hurriedly dressed, made the final checkup on our face and curls, and left for an evening of dancing to the music of Don Faber, talking, and just plain fun at the "Sideline Shuffle." Soon—too soon—the clock struck twelve, and Homecoming '56 became a memory of a golden October day and a romantic, music-filled night.

Honorary "N" Club members Marie Warda, Betty Fisher, Jan Minors, and Barb Thompson cheer excitedly on hearing that the "N" Club's lion has won first place.

Jimmy Tomsik, with an extra burst of speed and power, stops a dangerous Morton advance towards Niles' goal line.

The "Sideline Shuffle" climaxes the celebration of Homecoming, 1956.

During intermission at the Homecoming Dance, Dick Machas and Warren Hanson, Nilehi's own budding musicians, praise Don Faber's musical style to Renee Baron, Barb Maurus, Irene Weinberg, and Chuck Esposito.

WINTER WONDER

"DECK THE HALLS WITH BOUGHS OF HOLLY."

As choruses of "Hallelujah, Hallelujah" echoed through the halls, we knew that the "season to be jolly" was fast approaching. Disregarding our usual school worries, we concentrated on such major problems as what type of gift to give our homeroom teacher, whom we should go to the dance with, and who could have the first party of the holiday season.

We decorated the halls and rooms with mistletoe and holly, bought Christmas presents, and practiced for Vespers. When the choral groups blended their voices with beautiful harmony in "Silent Night" and "Adeste Fidelis", our hearts filled with happiness and awe.

Who knows, maybe Santa Claus is coming to Nilehi? Vicki Day and Donna Bistolfo think so as they hurriedly decorate their homeroom's Christmas tree.

All of the choral groups combine their voices at the finale of the Vespers in the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus."

Arriving at the Christmas Dance, we discovered that our gym had become a "Winter Wonderland." Greeted by a huge, smiling snowman, with a huge snowflake twirling over our heads, we swayed to the music of Bob Stevens. And best of all, when the strains of "Good Night Sweetheart" brought our evening to a close, we could look forward to two whole weeks of sleeping late and enjoying the luxury of "Time On My Hands."

During the Christmas Vespers, Nancy Scanlon and the entire audience rise to sing "Joy to the World."

Dave Cleven and Jan Peterson, entering a "Winter Wonderland," are greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Snowman.

Dave Cleven sounds the gong to announce the next act to the royal court consisting of Jill Linn, Jay Wollin, Ron Raben. Diane Klinge, Ann Ide, Patty Teichert, Sue Seegren, Marianna Marks, Nancy Phillips, Cecilia Belgarbo, Marilyn Holtz, and Pat Camerus.

Frankie Milazzo on drums and Dick Machas on the electric guitar filled the gym with music at Reflections Revelries. This act tied for first place.

IS "OUT OF THIS WORLD!"

Run as smoothly as a successful Broadway show, Nilehi's Reflections Revelries of 1957 was "OUT OF THIS WORLD" in theme, production, and talent. Of the seventeen acts from Earth sent to Chino (Jay Wollin) and Zeeta (Jill Linn), rulers of the planet, only the three best were permitted to remain "OUT OF THIS WORLD." The feeling of tension, which had gripped the contestants from the opening curtain, was experienced by the tightly packed audience as the judging took place. Mr. Burr Tillstrom, creator of the Kuklapolitans, Mrs. Edith Kraft of the Lincolnwood Little Theatre, and Mr. Charles M. Feingarten, Director of the Feingarten Art Galleries had a very difficult time in selecting the acts which were "the most"; for the first time there was a three way tie for first place! The announcement that the Twilighters, a student band, "Alice and Algernon," presented by those prim but lovely ladies from Boston, and the original instrumental of Dick Machas and Frank Milazzo on the drums and guitar were the winners brought a round of applause which would be envied by professionals.

The credit for the success of the show goes to the directors, Mr. O. T. Hendrickson and Mrs. Lou Ann Moran, and to Miss Virginia Stemp for writing the script. The three crews—make-up, stage, and lights—worked closely together to make Reflections Reveleries of 1957 "out of this world."

"I Love My Baby" sings Rosalind Lonn who, in her flapper costume, looks like a character out of a Scot Fitzgerald novel.

Sarane Crowther, Judy Burt, Arlene Atwood, and Becky Barker sing of the love affair of Alice and Algernon who were so beautiful—"except."

"What more could a boy want?" Jack Hagman, candidate for Prom King, is surrounded by his harem of Nancy Keppeler, JoAnn Lotz, Sandy Bruening, Judy Schultz, Dotty McDowell, Marie Warda, Marilyn Horn, Barb Larsen, Sandy Jacobsson, and Pattie McGuire.

Queen for a night! Prom King Jimmy Hartmann helps Joyce Holtz adjust her crown.

A MAGIC NIGHT FILLED WITH DREAMS—

THE JUNIOR PROM!

The magic night finally arrived! At seven o'clock our evening began with a coketail party at the home of a friend. At nine, we floated into the Grand Ballroom of the Edgewater Beach Hotel to the music of the fabulous Duke Ellington. The giant ballroom hushed as Bill Ihne, Junior Class President, crowned the King and Queen of the Junior Prom and presented the traditional bouquet of flowers to the queen. After the Grand March, a rainbow of pink, powder blue, and yellow formals swayed to the heavenly music until the strains of "I'll See You In My Dreams" brought our Prom to a close. Then we were off to the Chez Paree, Boulevard Room, or Empire Room for more dining and dancing.

Sunrise brought breakfast with our friends, and as soon as we had devoured the last strip of bacon and the last roll, we were off to Lake Geneva, Crystal Lake, or Powers Lake for a glorious day of swimming, water skiing, relaxing, and sleeping under the bright sun. All to soon the moon and stars came out, and all that remained of a magic weekend was a silver dance program and a faded gardenia.

Prom King Jimmy Hartmann and Prom Queen Joyce Holtz lead the Grand March joined by Chas Mark, Barb Larsen, Keith Sorenson, Nancy Harris, Malcolm MacLean, and Carol Schweger.

SENIORS WRITE AN END AND A BEGINNING.

What is a senior? The answer depends on your point of view. To a freshman or sophomore, a senior is that obnoxious person who is always right; to a junior, a senior is that "big wheel" in whose shoes he longs to be. But to us, who finally find ourselves at the top of the heap, to be a senior is to serve by acting as "Big Brothers and Sisters" to the freshmen and by supervising hall traffic and study halls. To be a senior is to provide leadership as editor of the Nilehilite or Reflections or as president of Student Council. To be a senior is to worry over class rank and discuss Shakespeare as well as last night's date. To be a senior is to prepare for the future by taking College Entrance Board Exams and visiting Michigan, Grinnell, and the University of Illinois. To be a senior is to enjoy every stimulating class, to spend long hours with our friends discussing "life", to make the most of every game, dance, or party because "This is our last." In short, to be a senior is to be self-confident, yet full of self-doubt; adventurous, yet afraid; happy, yet sad. To be a senior is to write an end and a beginning.

Members of the Senior Class Cabinet, who are elected by their homerooms, plan such major events as Homecoming, the Senior Dance, and Graduation. Standing: Stan Bennett, Paul Grabow, Julie Stockmar, Larry Schildgren, Dick Machas, Pat Hagan, Dick Krauss, Art Wittkamp, and Norm Garland. Seated: Mary Meehan, Becky Barker, Dave Horsman, Lela Heim, Pat Baumann, Mr. Hendrickson (Sponsor), Ron Korsan (Second Semester Vice-President), Frank Kiszely (President), Doug Wold (First Semester Vice-President), and Judy Lewis (Treasurer).

Money is such a problem! The Junior Cabinet plans a jazz concert to raise money for the Prom. Standing: Al Spiegel, Richard Benson, Arnold Feinberg, Norman Peterson, Mr. D. Wright (Sponsor). Seated: Carol Czarnota, Bruce Fyfe, Raynette Brown, Ginny Van Beek, Barbara Gordon, Carolyn Janis, Dave Morgan, John Dragisic (Vice-President), Suellen Mills (Treasurer), Bill Ihne (President), Twila Wells (Secretary).

JUNIORS HAVE THE BEST OF TWO WORLDS.

"Do you like it?" Roger Cope's ring will soon be on a chain around Alice Merwitz's neck.

What is a junior? A taller sophomore? Definitely not! A sophisticated senior? Not quite. The junior has the best of two worlds. To be a junior is to wear one's new importance as self conciously as a first formal; to become aware of one's self as "that handsome guy who plays forward" or that "pretty girl with the blonde pony tail." To be a junior is to find out that a real "big wheel" is more than big talk, that power brings responsibilities like living up to expectations of teachers and parents and underclassmen. To be a junior is to work harder than ever in history and English and French; to worry a little over class rank, College Boards, and college entrance requirements. It is to hope to be among the lucky five per cent tapped for National Honor Society; to thrill over driving that sleek red convertible; to wait for the phone to ring; to know the independence of that first paycheck; to pray for a date for that big night, the Prom. To be a junior is to be all of these—foolish, wise —but wonderfully alive!

SOPHOMORES ARE BOTH "FOOLISH AND WISE".

What is a sophomore? To a freshman, a sophomore is that lordly creature who thinks his mission in life is to keep his inferiors in place. To Mr. Webster, on the other hand, a sophomore is a species who, like the Sophists, is "foolish and wise". But to us who finally find ourselves "second termers", to be a sophomore is to tease the freshmen by initiating them with lipstick at the first football game; to ambulate around the halls with an air of "This is my world"; to dash to Roundy's for a quick lunch of hamburger and french fries. To be a sophomore is to build a bigger and better float for the Homecoming Parade; to make our social debut at the Christmas Dance; to put together an act that tops the best of Reflections Revelry. To be a sophomore is to know "Pat" and "Bill" and "Suzy"; to size up just how much work is necessary for a "gentleman's grade" from Mr. Hussey, Mr. Blair, or Mrs. Baker; to make resolutions to bring up those grades . . . well, maybe, tomorrow. Yes, to be a sophomore is to have time—two more years—to decide whether to be "foolish or wise."

"What time shall I pick you up?" Between classes Riley Morgan, Lynn Hicks, Karen Julian, and Bill McGrath make plans for the weekend.

FRESHMEN ARE "BEWITCHED, BOTHERED, AND BEWILDERED".

Freshmen! Heckled by sophomores, frowned at by juniors, ignored by seniors, a freshman is the lowliest of creatures to everyone except himself. To be a freshman is to be "bewitched, bothered, and bewildered"; to buy elevator passes and pogo sticks and carry a brief case and ask "May I sharpen my pencil?" To be a freshman is to be eager and brash and uncertain; to wave one's hand when the teacher questions; to swagger and shove and squirm; to ignore the girls, cold shoulder the boys, and secretly hope for the best! To be a freshman is to hate one's self, but never let on; to long to grow up, but dread to change; to pretend to know everything, but secretly be racked with doubt; to scorn adults, but suspect they're right. To be a freshman is to wear braces and grow out of one's clothes; to blush, and suffer, and wait, knowing "Tomorrow the World"!

Judy Jackson, Robin Hoffer, and Bonnie Grant give Mr. Bost the difficult job of deciding on a winner at the Freshman Mixer.

Freshmen learn the meaning of the word "STUDY" as they take part in S.S.S.H.; they do their homework at school instead of having to lug books home.

TEACHERS HELP US . . .

". . . TO ACCEPT
REALITY AND KNOW
OURSELVES."

No, it isn't a Jaguar, but Lee Leitherer appreciates Mr. Mackey's pointer on fixing the carburetor.

SCHOOLS MUST BE THE "FINEST EXAMPLE OF DEMOCRATIC LIVING".

Dr. Rinehart is the new superintendent of Niles Township High School. Before coming to Niles, he was Superintendent of Schools in Perrysburg and Yellow Springs, Ohio, for twelve years. This year, he received his Ph. D. degree from Ohio State University.

As superintendent, he is responsible for countless functions, including the hiring of teachers, the educational co-ordinating of administrative duties, and the working out of the budget. One of Dr. Rinehart's pressing current problems is the building of Niles West to accommodate the constantly increasing enrollment.

However, Dr. Rinehart isn't concerned with administrative functions only. He believes that the primary purpose of education is to make the school the "finest exemplification of democratic living possible and an agency for the understanding, reinterpretation, and refinement of, the values and ideals that characterize such living." "Democratic living" infers more than a mere form of government; it implies a form of social organization, a mode or a process of living together. Implied in the philosophy are the following essentials: first, "respect for an optimal development of human personality"; second, "faith that optimal development of the individual can best be attained by living and working together for the common good of all"; and third, "faith in the free play of intelligence in the solution of individual and group problems."

In addition to his functions at Niles, Dr. Rinehart is a member of the National Education Association, Illinois Education Association, Illinois Association of School Boards, the Illinois Association of School Administrators, the American Association of School Administrators, and numerous other professional organizations. He was elected to Who's Who in American Education in 1955.

Dr. Rinehart's biggest problem is finding time to co-ordinate the functions of the school, to become acquainted with the students, and to learn about his new surroundings.

Mr. Houghton, assistant superintendent, checks on the building of the West Division of Niles Township High School.

Working with Dr. Rinehart is Mr. Paul J. Houghton, Assistant Superintendent, who helps Dr. Rinehart in all phases of school administration. Mr. Houghton is in his thirtieth year of teaching in the schools of Illinois. The first twelve years he spent as math teacher and Athletic Director and Coach of all sports at Marion High School in Marion, Illinois. He spent the next seventeen years at Anna Jonesboro High School in Anna, Illinois. There, for nine years, he taught mathematics and acted as Athletic Director. The last four years he held the position of assistant principal. From 1948 to 1956 he was principal of Anna Jonesboro High School.

He is in his third year of office as secretary of the Illinois Association of Secondary School Principals, and is a member of the Advisory Committee of the National Association of Secondary School principals.

In September, 1957, the West Division of Niles Township High School will open its doors to 2000 students.

"I don't know a group of people who come nearer performing selfless public service", writes Mr. Charles Wilson, Superintendent of Schools in Highland Park, in discussing the role of the school board in his recent book, A Teacher is a Person. A school board member must have the financial genius of a Rockefeller, the vision of a Frank Lloyd Wright, the diplomacy of a Dulles, and the shrewdness of a Henry Ford. Monthly, the elected seven man Board of School District 219, the representatives of the citizens to whom the schools belong, wrestles with problems of educational philosophy, personnel, salaries, budgets, and a building program to provide the setting for our "green years."

BOARD AND PARENTS PROVIDE

Mr. Clyde P. Anderson (President) and board members Leo J. Bushey, Dr. John H. Speer, William Wise, Dr. Daniel R. Long, Clarence W. Payne and Warren Meyer hear a report from architectural firm Holobird, Root and Burgee on the progress of the five million dollar high school.

To promote understanding between faculty, parent and student body is the goal of the Nilehi P. T. A. Eight hundred interested parents are led by Mrs. Scott McDowell (President), Mrs. Van Allen Bradley and Mr. Edward DuMay (Vice President), Mrs. John Oliver (Recording Secretary), Mrs. David Hoppe (Corresponding Secretary) and Mrs. Arthur Woerthwein (Treasurer). Assisting the officers are four Directors: Mrs. Eugene Traut and Mrs. Harlon Mills, co-chairmen of the faculty dinner; Mr. A. J. Kostelnick, adviser; and Mrs. A. I. Hawk, safety chairman.

In addition to the regular monthly meetings held on the third Wednesdays of September, October, January, February, March, and April and the publication of the Nile-A-Gram, members of the P. T. A. helped with the T. B. X-Ray program, aided the nurses with the Vision Testing, assisted with the building of floats, sold refreshments during football games, and entertained members of the faculty at a buffet dinner on November 7.

P.T.A. officers for 1956-1957 are Mrs. Scott McDowell (President), Mrs. Van Allen Bradley and Mr. Edward DuMay (Vice Presidents), Mrs. David Hoppe (Corresponding Secretary), and Mrs. Arthur T. Woerthwein (Treasurer).

THE SETTING FOR OUR GREEN YEARS.

Mr. Hugh McGee, Mrs. Paul Houghton, Mr. George Adams, Mr. John Hallberg, Mr. Warren Meyer, and Mrs. Marjorie Schwab were guests of the P.T.A. at the annual buffet.

Mr. Harold Ohlson directs the instruction of 1200 students as principal of the East Division.

"Every school principal has, as his most important responsibility, the duty of maintaining or, if possible, improving the quality of instruction in his school." Mr. Harold Ohlson and Mr. John Gach, who are principals of the East and West Divisions of Niles Township High School, have a long list of duties which include: working on the design and development of the curriculum; helping teachers by assigning them to work for which they are best qualified, providing them with the supply of materials and services they need to conduct their classes, and by conferring with them about the teaching problems they encounter; establishing a guidance system which will assist each student, personally and individually; performing such managerial duties as construction of a schedule of classes, arranging for student progress reporting, maintaining records and reports, watching conditions in the school plant so that the safety, health, and welfare of student and teacher personnel are secure. Furthermore, the principal is responsible for "discipline"; however, the general policy is to use discipline problems to bring students up to a higher level of maturity and self control.

In addition to the above duties the principal works closely with the superintendent on matters of policy development and acts, at all times,

COORDINATING THE EAST AND WEST

Mr. Marvin Ihne, assistant principal of the East Division in charge of juniors, talks to Mr. Ohlson concerning a student discipline case.

Mr. Keith Hertweck, principal of the East Division in charge of seniors, makes a notation concerning a student's schedule change.

within the framework of adopted policy. Moreover, community relations involve the principal directly since he must represent the school to individuals, agencies, and organizations in the community, dealing with them in a cooperative, friendly spirit while upholding the aims and policies of the school.

The assistant principal at each class level shares in the general duties enumerated above. Specifically, the assistant principals are each directly assigned to the supervision of student personnel and extra curricular activities of a particular class level. In the East Division, the principals have the particular responsibility of guiding students toward qualifications for diplomas. Related to this is guidance in making post-graduation plans. In the West Division, the principals have the particular responsibility of bridging the gap between elementary school and high school.

A major problem of this year and next has been and will continue to be coordinating the entire administrative and instructional program of the East and West Divisions. Furthermore, all extracurricular activities, fee collecting, text book issue, materials and equipment issue, summer school operations, adult evening school operations, and P.T.A. activities must be coordinated between the two schools.

Mr. John Gach, principal of the West Division, studies a floor plan of the new building which will house freshmen and sophomores.

DIVISION IS MAJOR PROBLEM OF 1956-57.

Mrs. Marjorie Schwab, assistant principal of the West Division in charge of sophomores, goes over a second semester registration form.

Mr. William Bost, assistant principal of the West Division in charge of freshmen, checks a program change.

Dr. Arthur Ryden, director of the Guidance Services Department, explains the objectives of his department to Karen Carlson of the Nilehilite staff.

GUIDANCE STAFF HELP STUDENTS WITH

In the 1956-57 school year Niles Township High School, for the first time, centralized its guidance services in a staff of counselors under the direction of Dr. Arthur Ryden. Previous to this year, guidance was the responsibility of the homeroom teacher who kept student records, did educational and vocational planning, and gave personal guidance when necessary. Although the homeroom teachers have continued, to some degree, with these duties, the major responsibility for these services now is centered in a staff of six professionally trained counselors.

As head of this department, Dr. Ryden is primarily concerned with coordinating the programs of the individual members of his department. Furthermore, he must carry out the directives and policies of the administration concerning the guidance program in both the East and West Divisions. Working with him are Miss Marguerite Cuddy, in charge of the testing program; Mr. William Lewis and Miss Jeanne Goodson, in charge of providing school adjustment counseling; Mr. Harry Sortal, in charge of vocational counseling; Mr. O. H. Ruyle, in charge of vocational and military counseling; and Mrs. Annette Davis in charge of helping students solve personal and social adjustment problems.

Miss Marguerite Cuddy, testing counselor, refers to a student's cumulative folder for the score on the Primary Mental Ability test.

Mr. William Lewis, educational counselor, talks with a student who is experiencing a problem with his Latin grades.

Mrs. Annette Davis, visiting counselor, confers with a student's mother on a discipline problem.

ALL TYPES OF PROBLEMS

Miss Jeanne Goodson, educational counselor, enters semester grades in a cumulative folder, which is a record of academic and extracurricular achievements.

Mr. Harry Sortal, student employment counselor, examines a student's work permit application.

Miss Margaret deBooy confers with Ed Pollack, Doug Wold, Spencer Allen, Dick Rosenfield, Micki Tatman, and Joel Michael, who were among the 7500 students from all over the U. S. qualifying for the final test of the National Merit Scholarship Exams.

SPECIALISTS CONSTANTLY

Assisting the seventy per cent of Nilehi students who attend college are Miss Aune Toivola and Miss Margaret deBooy. Miss Toivola guides the student in selecting the right college by interviewing each senior, arranging conferences for students with some forty-six college representatives, and providing information about colleges by means of assemblies, films, and such special events as the Panhellenic tea on March 13. This year Miss Toivola has interviewed 432 seniors who are attending some seventy different colleges, with Illinois, Northwestern, Illinois Institute of Technology, Lake Forest, Bradley, U. of Colorado, Northern Illinois State, University of Miami, University of Wisconsin and Michigan drawing the greatest numbers.

Miss deBooy is faculty chairman of scholarships which were approximately sixty-five in number last year. (This figure does not include those granted directly to the individual.) She is also college admissions administrator with the responsibility of processing some 650 college applications. In addition, she supervises the publication of the weekly calendar.

Miss Aune Toivola, college counselor, records one of the conferences conducted with 420 seniors.

Mr. O. H. Ruyle, vocational and military service counselor, evaluates a pamphlet on army service.

Dr. Vernon Haubrich, director of curriculum, studies a report on ability groupings.

IMPROVE SERVICES

As director of curriculum Dr. Vernon Haubrich has the responsibility of coordinating the processes of teaching, the revising of materials, and the changing of the pattern of the curriculum. He must evaluate such changes and make further recommendations. This year has seen the continued development of ability groupings, the introduction of multiple period sections in English and social studies at the freshman level, the organization of the developmental program in English, and the continuation in the science and English department of the Critical Thinking Study in collaboration with the Illinois Curriculum Committee under the direction of the University of Illinois.

Mr. Schubert and his assistant, Mr. Hooseline, are familiar faces to most students. Tardy? Absent? Go to 19! Strict accounting of the whereabouts of some 2500 students is the responsibility of the attendance department. In any single month, some 1600 class admits, both worthy and unworthy, some 1400 pass slips to class, and some 400 detentions for students tardy without acceptable reasons, are issued. In addition, the attendance office composes a daily list of absent students to simplify the taking of attendance by individual teachers.

Mr. Anton Schubert, attendance officer, stamps a pass slip for a tardy student.

No matter how ugly the weather, Mr. Mattka begins "his day" by meeting the eight o'clock deadline for signing in at the main office.

"Can I help, too, Daddy?" A teacher such as Mr. Mattka often spends long hours in the evening grading papers.

THE LITTLE RED SCHOOL

Miss Mary Walker and Miss Irene Garrigan find skimming new books one of the more pleasant duties of a librarian.

Did you know—

That Nilehi has more than fifty pieces of precision equipment, including 16 mm. motion picture projectors, tape recorders, phonographs, and opaque projectors?

That three hundred fifty films were rented last year?

That social studies classes use the greatest number of motion pictures?

That nine elementary school districts with sixteen school buildings cooperatively own a township film library of 148 titles?

That this distribution is administrated by our Nilehi Audio Visual Department?

Did you realize—

That 2500 to 3000 new books are purchased yearly for our library shelves?

That at least fifty students a day visit the office of the nurse?

That students need more education on eating an adequate breakfast?

That students coming without passes or between classes, friends having problems at the same time, and the small working area make life hard for the nurses?

Making sure that all the parts of a projector are in good working condition is Miss Norma Barts, who heads the Audio Visual Department.

Mrs. Eileen Springer gives first aid to senior Debbie Rothholtz, while Miss Jean Massman makes an entry on the health record.

HOUSE WAS NEVER LIKE THIS!

Mrs. Lu Ann Moran finds disc recorders, tape recorders, and mirror practice useful devices in correcting speech.

Did you know—

That the number of people handicapped by poor speech numbers about five percent of the total population?

That eighty-five students are receiving help from Mrs. Moran with approximately 100 on the waiting list?

That the Speech Correction program in Illinois is subsidized by the state?

That all freshmen and sophomores do some work in the improvement of reading?

That, in addition, approximately two hundred freshmen and sophomores receive semi-individualized help?

That seniors, college prep students, work to improve speed and comprehension?

Did you ever stop to consider—

That approximately 400 students a year receive training in Driver's Education?

That the learning to drive safely saves many times that number of lives?

If you have, then you appreciate the varied and specialized services of the modern school.

Miss Helen Smith uses the accelerator to improve the number of words read per minute.

"Fair or foul," every day Mr. Nick Odlivak, Mr. Billy Schnurr, Mr. Robert Frala, and Mr. Leo Babcock drive with students in dual-controlled cars.

As business manager Mr. Charles Coker supervises all employees other than teachers.

The office staff of Nilehi has reached the all time high of twenty-two. Mr. Charles Coker is business manager with the responsibility of supervising all employees other than teachers. The nine employees in the main office include a receptionist, switch-board operator, two clerk-typists, four bookkeepers, and one secretary. This department purchases necessary supplies and equipment, keeps financial records, and balances the budget. The central office staff also directs the cafeteria and custodial staff and makes reservations for the use of the building by outside organizations.

The two office staffs of the East and West Divisions include eight typists and secretaries who are responsible for providing for the instructional needs of the school such as making appointments for the principals, correspondence, intra-school bulletins, and typing and duplicating teaching material. A record of the student's credits is kept by Mrs. Florence Keppeler, the registrar.

Miss Lois Herbster is secretary to Dr. Rinehart, and Mrs. Lily Lubin is secretary to Mr. Houghton.

The staff of the main office includes Mrs. Betty Moe, receptionist; Mrs. Helen Snyder, switchboard; Mrs. Ruth Oswald, general clerical; Mrs. Evelyn Hornewer, Mr. Coker's secretary; Mrs. Monia Schabow, accounts payable bookkeeper; and Miss Suzanne Eisner, stenographer.

Balancing the books and keeping the accounts of school clubs are the duties of Mrs. Helen McGinnis, Miss Therese Schweitzer, and Mrs. Laura Wold.

Doing all the secretarial work for the East Division are Mrs. Dorothy Scanlan, Mrs. Laura Chambers, and Mrs. Florence Taylor.

OFFICE STAFF REACHES AN ALL TIME HIGH

Miss Ruth Akerlund and Mrs. Patricia Keys are secretaries to the principals of the West Division.

The two secretaries who staff the Guidance Department assist the counselors by typing case histories, doing clerical work in connection with the testing program, making appointments, and typing correspondence.

Besides typing the two secretaries in the Attendance Office keep attendance and tardy records, control the "sign in" and "sign out" procedures, issue admits to class and detentions for tardiness and truancy, process all anticipated absence requests, return used student passes to the originator, and consult with the nurses, principals, and counselors regarding excessive absences, tradiness, and truancies.

Mrs. Harriet Kneip does the correspondence and scheduling of appointments for the Guidance Department.

Mr. Pirovano, head of the custodian staff, schedules the custodial work so as not to interfere with classroom or school activities.

NILEHIERS SAY, "ORCHIDS TO

As Walter Winchell would say, "Orchids to our cafeteria and custodial staff!" Mrs. Ebba McNeill and her staff serve seven to eight hundred hot lunches a day with roast beef the favorite entree. Daily, Nilehiers drink two thousand cartons of milk, eat three hundred salads, eight hundred sandwiches (one thousand, if beef burgers are on the menu), and top it all off with forty pies, "homemade" by the staff. According to Mrs. McNeill, the biggest problem is the lack of space for handling such quantities of food. However, despite such minor catastrophes as Mrs. McNeill's being drenched in fruit juice, leaving the applesauce cake in the oven all night, and having to find a substitute for two hundred pounds of meat which wasn't delivered, lunch is served from eleven to one.

Cleaning 108 rooms, two cafeterias, two gyms and locker rooms, the kitchen, and the assembly hall are the daily duties of Mr. Pirovano and his staff. The major maintenance problem is the keeping in good condition those areas which are used by the public as well as the student body. The hardest part of a custodian's job is the scheduling of custodial work so as not to interfere with classroom or school activities.

Mrs. Olga Ruggeri records the combination and serial numbers of student locks.

Miss Gloria Schabilion and Mrs. Margaret Banks type and check the daily absence sheet.

OUR CAFETERIA AND CUSTODIAL STAFF"

After the school day is over, work begins for Johanna Finarsen, Claudia Heineman, and Margaret Henning.

Ted Carlson, Iver Iverson, Peter Masterson, George Meuller, Harry Boyd, Jim Losch, and Jules Roels take time out from their daily job of cleaning 108 rooms for a short rest.

Enjoying their own cooking are Leona Houlihan, Jean Larson, Emily Mussil, Lucille Maki, Helen Erickson, Dorothy Ahrendt, Maria Hudson, and Eleanor Scheibe.

Tired, but still smiling after serving two thousand students are Ebba McNeil, Frances Garner, Esther Fountaine, Irene Steek, Carolyn Borchert, Harriett Fiech, Helen Toussaint, and Elsie Meszaros.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

High school years are the "green years." The '57 Reflections has attempted to portray through poetry, prose, and pictures youth's development of mature relationships with the opposite sex, the taking on of responsibilities, the fun, the seeking of goals, and the reaching for a philosophy of life. Our thanks go to Mrs. Mary Ida McGuire, general staff sponsor, Mrs. Lucille Barnes, senior section sponsor, Mr. Koenig of the Norman King Publishing Company, and to the photographers of Root Studio for their help. We also wish to thank all the members of the faculty and administration for their cooperation, without which the book would be only a dream.
